Calcutta: A student writing the just-concluded Madhyamik examinations allegedly used an artificial intelligence (AI) app to solve a mathemat-ics question on his smartphone, a senior official of the state secondary education board said on Saturday.

The student was caught while using the prohibited device at the examination centre on February 15.

He was harred from writing Madhyamik further.

Madhyamik, which started on February 10, ended on February 22.

The official said the stu-dent downloaded an AI-enabled app on his smartphone and sneaked in with the device at the centre.

Usually, students entering the exam centre with phones capture the image of the question paper and WhatsApp the same to their tutors, the offi-

The tutors enrolled with coaching centres provide the solutions and send then back to the examinees on the same social media platform, said a board official.

But the case in a Calcutta school stands out because here the student did not send a grab of the question to any outsider seeking help. He tried to solve the problem with an AI-enabled app loaded on his mobile. This seems new,"

The student was one hour into writing the examination

when he was caught.
This year, the board has de harred 20 students on charges of entering the examination centres with their phones or smartwatches.

Such instances of students entering the examination cen-tres with banned devices have triggered a debate on wheth-er the board should think of using metal detectors to scan The board had earlier rejected the proposal because many felt subjecting children to such scrutiny would be unfair.

The state higher second-ary council has decided to use metal detectors in all the 2.100 examination centres from this

The move by the council aims to prevent students from entering the HS examination centres with their phones, smart watches or any other banned device.

"There is also an implementation hazard at the secondary level, considering that more than 10 lakh write Madhyamik. The number is less than half at the higher secondary level. If we start scanning Madhyamik examinees with metal detectors we have to open the centres at 6am, at least five hours before the start of examination. board president Ramanuj Ganguly told Metro.

Calcutta: A real estate developer with an alleged criminal background was shot at in Howrah's Liluah on Friday night outside a multi-storeved building on Netaji Subhas Road moments after he stepped out of a birthday

Rajesh Singh fell after being hit in the abdomen. He was first rushed to a hospital in Howrah and later shifted to a private facility in Calcutta.

On Saturday, doctors told police his condition was critical.

Eyewitnesses told cops Rajesh was standing outside "Indradhanush apartment" in Liluah when two bike-borne men came down Netaji Subhas Road and fired at him from a close range.

As Rajesh slumped on the road, the men with helmets covering their faces sped away on the two-wheeler.

This was around 10.30pm when a birthday party was underway on the ground floor of the apartment building and Rajesh had just stepped out. A section of residents in Li-luah said Rajesh lived alone in the building outside which he was shot at.

An erstwhile industrial hub with iron and steel rolling mills, Liluah began witnessing a change after the factories started closing down. Residential and commercial buildings began replacing the industrial units. Shopping malls, schools and markets sprang up.

The change in the landscape also saw a shift in the type of crime in Liluah, senior police officers said.

Rajesh's brother Nitesh said he wasn't sure why the men targeted his brother. A section aware of Rajesh's alleged criminal past said the attack could be retaliation from a Howrah-based gang who have been following his movements closely for some time. Senior officers in the How rah police commissionerate. who went to the spot on Friday night, said Rajesh was allegedly involved in a murder in Howrah in 2011 and was jailed as well. After his release, Rajesh began developing real estate in and around Liluah using his network, they said. "We have collected CCTV images of the attack and are going through them. The men on two-wheeler will be identified. The motive behind the murder attempt is not clear," said Bishop Sarkar, the deputy commissioner of police, Howrah North division

The attack on the developer by bike-borne men in Lilu ah on Friday came two days after an inspector of police was found near a car with a gun-shot injury on his left arm in Howrah's Ghoshpara in Shibpur.

The inspector, Javanata Pal, who was admitted to a private hospital on Andul Road was discharged on Saturday He has been relieved of his responsibilities as the inspec tor-in-charge of Chanditala
