Govt seeks reports on storm damage to schools

SUBHANKAR CHOWDHURY

Calcutta: The state government has sought reports from the district inspectors of schools in nine districts, including Calcutta, about the extent of damage caused by Cyclone Dana to school infrastructure and students' textbooks.

The commissioner of school education, Arup Sengupta, wrote to the district inspectors on Saturday: "You are aware that the cyclone Dana has made landfall on 24.10.2024. Following the cyclone heavy rainfall has reportedly affected a good number of blocks in your districts." "...a Google form is being shared for providing the status of damage caused to textbooks/ exercise books of students and the infrastructure of schools. You are requested to take immediate feedback," the letter said.

The nine districts are Calcutta, Howrah, Hooghly, North 24-Parganas, South 24-Parganas, East Medinipur, West Medinipur, Jhargram and Bankura.

"As and when we get an estimate about the extent of the damage, the department will reimburse the expenses," said an official in the school education department.

Of the nine districts, the school infrastructure in East Midnapore suffered the maximum damage, the official said.

Hrisikesh Das, the headmaster of Battala Anandamoyee High School in East Midnapore's Ramnagar, said: "The roof of the room where midday meal is cooked and served was blown away in the winds unleashed by the cyclone. The kitchen garden on the campus where we grow vegetables was also destroyed. We are worried about how midday meal will be provided to students once the school reopens after the Puja vacation."

The headmaster of another government-aided school in the area said many students reported that textbooks in their homes were destroyed in the rain triggered by Dana.

"Without textbooks, they won't be able to attend classes. The students are to write their summative exams once the schools reopen. Many students are worried about how they will write the papers," said a headmaster who did not want to be named.

The students in the government and aided schools are assessed through summative and formative tests.

The headmaster said the Dana-triggered winds and rain blew away or submerged the homes of many of his students.

Swapan Mandal, the general secretary of the Bengal Teachers' and Employees' Association, said a prolonged summer vacation, caused by heatwave and the Lok Sabha polls, came in the way of completing the syllabus.

The vacation started on April 22, and the schools reopened on June 10. Summer vacation usually lasts three weeks.

"With so many students losing their textbooks, there will be a further setback. The state government should consider this and make adequate compensation," said Mandal.

An official in the education department said the state government had earlier this month provided financial assistance to 16 lakh students at the higher secondary level in government and aided schools so they could buy tabs.

"Around ₹1,300 crore was spent to help the students buy tabs. This government is always keen to help students, especially when they are in distress," the official said.

Workshop on onco-pathology

SUBHAJOY ROY

Calcutta: A conference-cum-workshop on advancements in onco-pathology was held in the city recently.

One of the organisers of the two-day event said tumour samples from most hospitals in the city have to be sent to Delhi, Bangalore, or another city for analysis to diagnose the nature of the tumour, which delays the turnaround time and the start of treatment.

The analysis results can take three weeks or even more to arrive.

The conference-cum-workshop was held to train pathologists in Calcutta in the advanced techniques so tumour samples can be analysed in the city, said Devmalya Banerjee, the treasurer and a member of the executive committee of the Association of Bone and Soft Tissue Pathologists.

"The workshop was organised to train young residents and consultants in advanced techniques. About 150 consultants from Calcutta and neighbouring places, and Odisha and other states attended the event," said Banerjee, lead onco-pathologist (eastern region) at NH Cancer Centre.

Cancer treatment has advanced but timely tumour diagnosis is important for better treatment.

"Every tumour has its genomic signature. Most hospitals in Calcutta conduct routine histopathology. But it is also necessary to identify the exact nature and type of the tumour from the tumour group for personalised cancer treatment," Banerjee said.

This was also the first national conference of the association.

Abbas Agaimy, professor and deputy director at the Institute of Pathology, Friedrich Alexander University, Germany; and Bharat Rekhi, professor at Tata Memorial Hospital, Mumbai, were among the speakers at the conference-cum-workshop.

Bhattacharya suggested that the complainant had gone to a few other places before visiting the police station.

"Her live (Facebook) post, followed by Kunal Ghosh's repost within 20 minutes and, finally, Debangshu Bhattacharya's post, raised many questions. I can't imagine people could stoop so low for political gain," he said. Ghosh and Debangshu Bhattacharya are Trinamool leaders.

A few hours later, the CPM issued a statement saying Bhattacharya has been suspended from the party.

"Tanmoy Bhattacharya has been suspended based on the allegations of the woman. The complaint has been forwarded to the internal complaints committee. Based on the findings and recommendations of the ICC, the next steps would be decided," the statement read.

An FIR has been drawn against the leader. Barrackpore police commissioner Alok Rajoraja said a case of outrage of modesty has been filed against Bhattacharya.

Diya sale

FROM PAGES

A trader at Chandni Chowk, who has been selling Diwali lights for more than two decades, said diyas with miniature LED lights are gradually phasing out earthen diyas with a wick.

This year, of the 1,500 diyas he has sourced, less than 100 have wicks. The rest came fitted with miniature LED lights.
